

Tone Time!

The 10 most Important Gear Ideas of the Last 10 Years

By Scott Malandrone

Bass Player Jan. 1999 (p.68)

Dingwall Voodoo 5-String

Reviewed January '96 & January '97

Canadian Luthier Sheldon Dingwall was the first manufacturer to apply Ralph Novax's fanned fret system to bass. Dingwall's Voodoo 5-string features a 37' scale length on the b string and 34' for the G; this gives the B amazing depth and clarity while keeping the familiar tension on the G. the Voodoo Bass makes our list for its innovation and great B-string sound.